

Seed Ball Tin

A COMPACT TIN FILLED WITH A HANDFUL OF SEED BALLS
READY TO GROW WILDFLOWERS.

SUMMARY	Small but mighty, this Seed Ball Tin is a giveaway that grows. Filled with a handful of seed balls packed with native wildflower seeds, it's easy for recipients to plant and grow blooms that support pollinators. The aluminium tin keeps everything secure, prevents dust from escaping, and can be reused or recycled. With a full-colour printed label on the lid, your branding stays visible long after other giveaways have been forgotten. Its compact size fits as a large letter, making it perfect for direct mail campaigns.
PRODUCT DETAILS	This isn't a giveaway that gets stuffed in a drawer or forgotten. The Seed Ball Tin is a thoughtful, practical branded item designed to keep your business in sight. Each tin holds a handful of seed balls, handmade in Britain and packed with native wildflower seeds. These seed balls are easy to plant, requiring nothing more than soil and water to bloom into flowers that support local wildlife and pollinators. The aluminium tin measures 55mm in diameter and 20mm high, with a screw top lid that keeps everything secure and prevents dust from escaping. Designed for longevity, the tin can be reused for storing small items or recycled, making it a more sustainable choice. The lid features a 51mm full-colour printed label, keeping your branding front and centre. Planting instructions are included inside, making it simple for recipients to grow their wildflowers. Perfect for trade shows, direct mail campaigns, corporate gifting, and eco-conscious promotions, this tin ensures your brand will be remembered while making a positive impact.
