

Bee Shaped Seed Bomb Tin

A POCKET-SIZED TIN WITH A SEED BOMB INSIDE. PLANT IT AND WATCH WILDFLOWERS GROW.

SUMMARY	Small but mighty, this Seed Bomb Tin is a giveaway that lasts. Inside is a handmade seed bomb shaped like a bee, van, tree, or house. Just plant it, add water, and wildflowers will bloom. The aluminium tin keeps everything secure, preventing dust from escaping, and can be reused or recycled. With a full-colour printed label on the lid, your brand stays visible long after other giveaways have been forgotten. It's also designed to fit as a large letter, making it ideal for direct mail campaigns.
PRODUCT DETAILS	This isn't a giveaway that gets stuffed in a drawer or lost at the bottom of a bag. The Seed Bomb Tin is a lasting, practical piece of branded merchandise that keeps your business in sight. Each tin holds a single seed bomb, handmade in Britain and packed with native wildflower seeds to help support pollinators. The seed bomb is available in four distinct shapes, making it easy to tie in with different campaigns. The aluminium tin is compact, measuring 55mm in diameter and 20mm high, with a screw top lid to keep everything secure and prevent dust from escaping. Unlike single-use packaging, the tin can be reused for storing small items or recycled, making it a more sustainable choice. The lid features a 51mm full-colour printed label, ensuring your branding is clearly visible. Each tin includes simple planting instructions inside, making it easy for recipients to plant and grow their wildflowers. Perfect for trade shows, direct mail campaigns, corporate gifting, and sustainable promotions, this product ensures your brand will be remembered long after the event has ended.
