

House Shaped Seed Bomb Tin

A REUSABLE TIN WITH A HOUSE SEED BOMB INSIDE, DESIGNED TO MAKE AN IMPACT.

SUMMARY	A giveaway built to last. Inside this tin is a house-shaped seed bomb, packed with native wildflower seeds. Ideal for property developers, construction firms, and housing associations, it's a meaningful promotional product that keeps your brand visible long after the first interaction. The tin is reusable and recyclable, and the full-colour printed label ensures your message stays in sight.
PRODUCT DETAILS	A promotional product that keeps your brand growing. Each tin contains a handmade house-shaped seed bomb, designed to sprout into native wildflowers. A great fit for property, construction, and housing brands, this is a creative way to promote your business while making a lasting impact. The aluminium tin is 55mm in diameter and 20mm high, with a screw-top lid to prevent dust from escaping. Its compact size makes it perfect for handing out at events or mailing as part of a direct marketing campaign. The 51mm full-colour label on the lid ensures strong brand presence, while the reusable tin adds an extra layer of value. Each tin includes a simple planting instruction card to guide recipients in growing their wildflowers.
